Gospel: Matthew 4:12-23

In today's Gospel we see Jesus beginning His mission in the region of Zebulun and Naphthali. The good news of Jesus is the light that shined on people who were living in hopelessness. To all Jesus asked to change their former way of living- repent because the kingdom of Heaven is very near to them. If they accept Jesus call, they are no longer in darkness but in light -the kingdom of Heaven.

As Jesus was walking by the sea of Galilee, he chooses His first disciples to help him in spreading this good news. We see that Jesus chooses ordinary fishermen. Simon and Andrew, who left their means of living and followed Jesus and Sons of Zebedee, John and James, who left their family in faith to Jesus and followed Jesus.

As they accepted the invitation of Jesus, they left their old ways of living and begins to live new life in Christ. We See that Jesus doesn't need their perfections. He called them in their weaknesses and empowers them for the mission.

In the same way, we are too chosen and called by Jesus through Baptism. We who are baptized in the name of the Father Son and Holy spirit belongs to this heavenly kingdom. Life in Christ is a new style of living in which you are not alone anymore but Christ is with you always and you are not gaining for your own selfishness but you are living for good of others and gathering everyone for the kingdom of heaven by spreading the good news of Jesus and what he has done in life for us. Let us trust in him and entrust in faith everything to Jesus and follow him. HE will make us Fishers of men to draw people to Gods love. Let us ask God to make us a fisher of men, to help us share His love with others.
